Governor Chauhan scripts history by visiting KHADC

GUANAN NEWS BUREAU
SHILLONG JULY 23: The Khasi Hills Autonomous District Council (KHADC), one of the oldest autonomous councils in the North East, has created a rare history with the Governor of the state paying a visit to the Council for the first time in 72 years.

Governor Phagu Chauhan, who visited the KHADC and spent nearly 30 minutes, inaugurated a small library of the Council.

The Governor in the past has never visited the Council. In fact, Chief Minister, Conrad Sangma is also the first executive Minister of Meghalaya who had witnessed the session of the KHADC on May 27, 2020. Sangma witnessed from the KHADC's museum gallery the proceedings of the election of the KHADC chairman.

The library, though small, has many books on its shelves. Significantly it has some of the important books and records including an oldest book titled, "An Introduction to the Khasi (Jaintia) Language" by Rev W. Pryor, besides an old register containing the first proceedings of the Council recorded in 1952, the first year when the then United Khasi and Jaintia Autonomous District Council (UK & JADC) was created.

The United Khasi and Jaintia

Autonomous District Council was, however split, as the Jaintia Hills Autonomous District Council came into being in 1964.

The Governor did not address the Council members and employees during his visit. In brief, the Governor thanked the MDCs for inviting him to inaugurate the library.

"It is indeed a great honour for all of us today as the KHADC has officially opened its library by the Governor of the State that too after 72 years. We have this library and we are fortunate to have the Governor inaugurating this library who also happened to be the first Governor to visit the Council in 72 years since 1952." KHADC chief executive member, Pynshing Sylem told reporters on Tuesday.

The CEM said that the library is very important and dear to the members as it has a number of Acts which got the assent of the Governor as well as important proceedings of the House since 1952.

"We have the proceedings of the first House in 1952 and we are so happy that we could preserve them as well as some of the old books related to customs and practices and traditional system of governance. It will make this library digital in this age of technology and should have our archives so that we do not lose our treasures," the CEM said.

Sylem said that the Council has to earmark its budget to expand the library, adding that the Council was also trying to get funds from the ministry of tribal affairs and ministry of culture of the Government of India that are willing to support the Council for the purpose.

Guv makes maiden visit to KHADC, inaugurates library

HP NEWS SERVICE

Shillong, Jul 23: Governor of Meghalaya Phagu Chauhan paid his maiden visit to the Khasi Hills Autonomous District Council (KHADC) and inaugurated its new library here today.

In his address, the Governor expressed his pleasure at to be part of the ceremonial programme and extended his greetings to the KHADC members and the people of Meghalaya.

Speaking to reporters the KHADC Chief Executive member, Pynshing Sylem said that the library will be of great help to gather information including information related to traditional governance, land, tribal customs and practices, and various acts and bills including the oldest House

"We also have the first district council proceedings

dated right back to 1952 when it was still United Khasi-

Jaintia district council and also the oldest book on Khasi language authored by Rev W Pryor 1955," he said, adding, the library houses various books on the Khasi customs and practices, etc.

Sylem said the library will preserve such documents that will be of great help to research scholars and others.

He also informed that they would also try to digitise the library and also try to create an archive to preserve the Acts and regulations which were passed by the council during the past many years.

The CEM said he is hopeful that the library will be expanded with funds from the Ministry of Tribal Affairs and Ministry of Culture.

Deputy CEM Pynshing Sylem, Executive Members and senior council members were present on the occasion.

SHILLONG/NONGPOH/MAWKYRWAT/TURA. Dec 3: The International Day of Persons with Disabilities (PwDs) was commemorated with an event at the U Soso Tham Auditorium here on Tuesday, under the theme, "Amplifying the Leadership of Persons with Disabilities for an Inclusive and Sustainable Future."

Titled EmpowerFest 2.0, the programme brought together stakeholders from across Meghalaya and featured key initiatives to promote inclusivity. A significant highlight was the distribution of adaptive chairs for children with cerebral palsy. These chairs, designed to meet the specific needs of the children, were crafted by carpenters from across the state who also live with disabilities.

The chairs were handed over to 13 children by the chief guest, Governor CH

Minister for Social Welfare, Paul Lyngdoh. The initiative was a collaborative effort involving the Commissioner for Persons with Disabilities, the Meghalaya Skill Development Society, and the State Resource Centre on Disability Affairs.

The event also witnessed the launch of Meghalaya

Sign-Lex — a platform developed to address communication gaps for the hearing- and speech-impaired community. This lexicon builds on the existing Meghalaya Sign Bank app, introduced in 2019 to document sign language commonly used in the state.

Meghalaya Sign-Lex aims to witness the documentation of sign language and expand its reach. It enables users — including linguists, educators, and researchers — to register, contribute, and upload videos of sign language gestures. Features include translation tools, a searchable dictionary, and data categorization by region, language, and context. The platform also integrates crowd-sourced contributions to capture regional dialects promoting linguistic diversity and inclusion.

The platform serves as a cooperative tool to strengthen resources for Meghalaya sign language community and provides data to the Meghalaya Sign Bank app through an integrated API.

Adding to the day's event was a performance by East Brook, a band comprising members who are differently abled. The band presented the Meghalaya Disability Anthem, which was launched during the event.

KHADC moves Guv for early assent to 7 Bills

GUARDIAN NEWS BUREAU

SHILLONG, SEP 26: The Khairi Hills Autonomous District Council (KHADC) on Thursday requested the Meghalaya Governor C. H. Vijayashankar to speed up granting assent to as many as seven pending bills passed by the Council last year.

Speaking at a meeting after meeting the Governor at Raj Bhavan, KHADC CPM Pynedong Syiem said, "Out of these, two are very important Bills. This includes the KHAD (Amendment of Rules) Amendment Bill, 2023 which seeks to amend the rules of the Council and give recognition to the functioning of local youth and women organisations at the village level. All this while their functioning was on paper but not as per law."

"The other important Bill is the KHAD (Local Social Custom of Unlawful Amendment of 2023) which seeks to register and maintain the local administration at the village level," he said.

"As per a study, there are over 3000 cases in Khairi Hills but so far there is no recognition by law. According to the Bill, there should be only one plan order to be recognised by the KHADC," Syiem said, adding "The governor has assured to give his assent as early as possible to these two important Bills."

"We have also requested the governor's assent for the KHAD (Regulation and Administration of Land) Rules, 2023. We have passed the Land Act in 2021. We have tried to get implementation, the Land Act is registered and passed. But, it is not implemented," he added.

The other pending Bills include KHAD (Regulation and Administration of Land) Amendment Bill, 2024; KHAD (Folklore Amendment) Bill, 2023; Regulation of Trading by Non-Tribal Amendment Rules, 2023 and KHAD (Autonomous District) Amendment and Election of Local Council Members, 2023.

KHADC delegation meets Gov on 7 pending bills

HP NEWS SERVICE

Shillong, Sep 26: Members of the executive committee of the Khasi Hills Autonomous District Council (KHADC) met with Meghalaya Governor CH Vijayashankar on the issue of seven bills that have been passed by the KHADC but yet to receive assent by the Governor.

KHADC Chief Executive Member told reporters after the meeting that the Governor had been urged to give his approval to the seven bills, which include the Elaka Amendment Bill 2023 and Social Custom of Lineage Amendment Bill 2023.

The former is aimed at giving recognition to the functioning of the Seng Samla (youth organisation) and Seng Kynthei-Seng Longkime (women's organisation) within the dotbar shongys.

The second bill relates to the various clans of the Khasi people that are yet to be registered and recognised by the law. A third pending bit of legislation is the Regulation and Administration of Land Amendment Bill 2024.

Vijayashankar reportedly told the delegation that he understood the importance of the bills and will look into giving them approval at the earliest.

Moreover, KHADC Deputy CEM Pynshingai N. Syiem said that as per the provisions of the Sixth Schedule, the term of the council cannot be extended beyond one year.

"If there is an amendment of the Sixth Schedule, it is for the government to decide and issue a notification on such a matter (whether to extend the term again)," he said.

It may be mentioned that there are speculations that the elections to KHADC, JHADC and GHADC may be delayed again if the amendment to the Sixth Schedule is passed by parliament.

It may be mentioned that the KHADC and JHADC had carried out readjustment of constituencies since November last year. Due to the readjustment exercise, the

Tourism fuel for M'laya's economy: Vice President

Dhankhar advises state to be more tourist-friendly for better returns

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG, Oct 16: Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar on Wednesday said the engine of Meghalaya's economy can be driven singularly and on all cylinders by tourism.

"Tourism by itself is sustaining the economy of several countries. You have to exploit it fully by having very talented and skilled people in the shape of human resources. Every tourist carries memorable moments of professionalism and excellence because of the things nature has given you," he said after virtually laying the foundation for the Meghalaya Skill and Innovation Hub.

Dhankhar advised the Meghalaya government to make human resources in the state more tourist-friendly.

He stressed the need to make the state so tourist-friendly that the visitors end up becoming the ambassadors of Meghalaya.

He also said the state has everything and the opportunities it presents have to be opened through systematic policies.

The Skill and Innovation Hub will be constructed on 54 acres in New Shillong for Rs 77.5 crore. The facility will cater to the requirements of the youth for incubation, training, collaboration, and industry partnerships.

Dhankhar said the skill hub will go a long way in promoting entrepreneurship in the state.

He also hoped that the state's human resources could get a boost with the establishment of the centre. "I am sure this is going to

He said Prime Minister Narendra Modi has opened a window of opportunities for the youth through different skilling and startup programmes.

He also said Rs 60,000 crore has been earmarked for skilling 5 lakh youth in the next five years across the country. "The empowerment of the youth will ensure a big economic upsurge in the country. An ecosystem is in place now where every young boy and girl can look for a larger basket of opportunities much beyond just getting into government service," he added.

Speaking on the occasion, Governor CH Vijayashankar highlighted the strength and rich resources of the state that would provide opportunities to the youth.

Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma said Meghalaya's young population is its strength.

He said the government is supporting entrepreneurship in a big way, and the Skill and Innovation Hub is being set up to address manpower shortage. "About 85% of our population is below the age of 45. The youth are our greatest strength and asset and we have initiated programmes that channelise their strength," he said.

Sangma further said that the government has different programmes through which the youth are trained so that they can contribute to the growth of the state.

preneurs, he said that the government organises various business plan competitions and supports entrepreneurs.

"We provide support and hand-holding to our entrepreneurs through programmes such as CM Elevate and provide financial subsidies," he added.

The Vice President launched the CM Business Catalyst, Student B-Plan Challenge with IIM Shillong and attended the signing of a memorandum of understanding between the UNDP and Meghalaya government to promote entrepreneurship.

Others present on the occasion included Health Minister Ampareen Lyngdoh, Chief Secretary DP Wahlang, DGP Idashisha Nongrang, IIM Shillong Director DB Goyal, and senior govern-
